Symptoms

Of Defective Vision

Many persons have the idea that defective vision manifests itself only in a failure or inability to see clearly, but itching, burning, smarting of the lids, dull pains in the eyes or head, even the back of the head, all come from irregularities in the optical construction of the eyes and may be entirely relieved by correctly fitted glasses.

DR. J. T. JOHNSON Guarantees to correct every case that he undertakes. If your eyes are giving annoyance consult him at once.

KILLED ONE AND PASSED ONE

University and State Normal Appropriations.

BOTH WERE DEBATED AT LENGTH

Sharp Retorts Both Pro and Con—Senator Glenn, as Usual was Vigorous and Bold.

From the Sunday News and Observer we take the following report of the senate proceedings on the appropriation bills to the University and the State Normal and Industrial College:

The senate worked from 9:30 a. m. to 7 p. m yesterday and disposed of about everything in reach except the revenue bill, the bill to change congressional districts and the anti-trust bill which still sleeps somewhere on the calendar of the judiciary committee, which appears to have given it a large dose of that celebrated legislative anaesthetic, procrastinaiion.

The finance bill was a special order for 4 o'clock of the afternoon, but was not taken up. It was made a special order for Monday when it is expected to be disposed of, for all work and no pay makes the legislator anxious to scoot and hereafter vouchers don't go with Father Worth.

The bill carrying an appropriation of $10,000 to provide a system of waterworks and sewerage for the University was taken up as a special order.

Senators Smith and Glenn led a fight for the bill. Senators Justice and Brown opposed the bill. Senator Brown said that $20,000 had once before been voted for improvements, part of it for water works. Senator Williams said that if all senators had seen at the University what he had seen they would vote for the appropriation. There were no water-works, the wells having dried up.

Senator Brown sent up an amendment to make it $5.000. Senator Cooley said appeals not for necessities but luxuries should not be made at this time. He had known boys who were willing to drink branch water for an education. "If our fathers did not die of typhoid fever why should our sons die of typhoid fever and bilious fever in these hard times," concluded the senator.

Senator Glenn said it was not possible to stand still. It was a mistake to suppose that the people of North Carolina were opposed to improving the schools.

Senator Skinner said the bill had passed the watch-dogs of the treasury, the committee on appropriations.

Senator Justice said he would vote for the bill if the annual appropriation was reduced to $20,000.

Senator Jackson moved to amend by appropriating $20,000 annually for two years and $10,000 for next year.

Senator Justice moved to amend to the same effect.

Senator Daniel said he was opposed to increase of appropriations at this time, but he was satisfied that it was a mistake to leave the property at the University without insurance. If there were no water-works the rates would be extravagantly high. He favored the appropriation.

Senator Hicks said that his people had no objection to paying a copetency to the University, but they were sick and tired of annually increasing the appropriations. It was desired to bring water for shower baths; when he got in a Chapel Hill shower bath he forgot the song of the poet:

"I would not live always
I ask not to stay."

"Let pumps be put in," said the Senator.

Senator Smith: "What's the good of pumps when there is no water?"

Senator Osborne said the only question was whether the appropriation was necessary. The gentlemen who had investigated said it was necessary.

Senator Cocke: "I am in favor of the appropriation if it is absolutely necessary."

Senator Osborne: "I have always regarded water as a necessity, not only to drink but to wash with. (Laughter.)

Senator Cocke: "If the wells are dry where do they get the water?"

Senator Osborne: "Will somebody tell the Senator where in the thunder they get the water?"

To refuse the appropriation would not decrease taxation. The people of North Carolina only wished to know that the money was well and properly spent.

Senator Justice said he was no enemy to the University. But when it was a question of economy the University should be required to economize somewhat.

Senator Wilson closed the argument for the bill and called the previous question. The amendment of Senator Jackson was adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Senators, Black, Brown, Butler, Campbell, Cocke, Collie, Cooley, Crisp, Davis, Fields, Franks, Goodwin, Hicks, Jackson, Justice, Lambert, Lindsay, Mason, Miller, Murray, Robinson, Stanback, Thomas--23.

Noes—Senators Bryan, Cheek, Cowper, Daniels, Glenn, Hairston, Hill, James, Jones of Johnston, Lowe, McIntyre, Osborne, Satterfield, Skinner, Smith, Speight, Travis, Ward, Whitaker, Williams, Wilson—21.

Senator Wilson asked that the bill be withdrawn and the matter allowed to stand as before.

Senator Justice vigorously opposed that course; he insisted that the bill as amended be passed.

The senate took five minutes off and looked as much like a convention as possible.

Senator Justice took the floor and declared that the gentlemen had insisted that water was an absolute necessity; they had the bill in a shape to get water and should be satisfied.

Senator Glenn declared that the speech was unjust. Teachers were a necessity also.

Senator Hicks: "Does not the president and faculty of the University get more than the professors of Wake Forest?" He thought their salaries might be cut.

Senator Osborne: "Withdraw the bill."

Senator Justice said the bill could be withdrawn.

Senator Glenn: "You have no right to put us in that position."

Senator Justice: "You may as well be in that position as us."

Senator Wilson asked to withdraw the bill as to the Normal College. The former bill was withdrawn.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The greater part of the afternoon session was taken up with debate on the bill to appropriate $5,000 to build a library and gymnasium at the State Normal and Industrial College.

Senator Justice sent up an amendment similar to the amendment added to the University appropriation bill at the morning session, providing that the regular appropriation should be $22,500 for the next two years instead of $25,000.

Senator Wilson said he did not care to discuss the matter at length.

Senator Fields thought that the only way to provide efficient teachers was to have good high schools to educate the women was to educate the country. He was for giving the college the small pittance asked.

Senator Williams said his people would consider him a coward if he did not defend the women of the state. He paid a tribute to woman. "Why the senator from Rutherford, Mr. President, is only the lieutenant governor when he is at home. A woman rules there." The colored normal schools received $26,000 a year. Any man who would check the education of the women of the state was a coward. "I am opposed to paying out unnecesary money; I opposed paying $6,000 out of the treasury the other night. I have seen the effects of this school; it has given us the best teachers we ever had."

Senator Justice: "I have listened with a great deal of interest to the gentleman's speech to the gallery."

Senator Williams: "I was not speaking to the gallery."

Senator Justice: "Can you tell me the salary of the president of that institution?"

"The president and professors of that institution are living on high salaries and live sumptuously dressed in purple and fine linen. I say give them $22,500. The heads of these institutions should have kept their hands off the democratic party at this session. It is not fair to the legislature. They could have waited two years until the country is in better condition. I favor taking $2,500 every year off the annual appropriation for this purpose."

Senator Glenn said the people of South Carolina were no wealthier than the people of North Carolina, but had given $250,000 for a normal college building, and gave an annual appropriation of $35,000.

There were more than three times as many girls at the normal college as in 1893; the appropriation should be in the same proportion. There were no luxuries at the normal college; no carpets and brass beds.

Senator Cocke: "Is this appropriation to buy beds?"

Senator Glenn: "No sir, the senator objected to water this morning and now he is objecting to everything else. I, for one, am willing to vote this little pittance of $5,000 to make the women of North Carolina what they should be."

Senator Justice said it was presumed that the institution was to do a great deal for women. But he found that the president and men professors were paid from $1,600 to $2,250. Some of the women teachers were paid as little as $350. If so much was sought to be done for women why were not the women paid as much as the men?

Senator Glenn said one of the women teachers got $1,300 and three of them $1,000 a year. It comes with ill-grace to say that a judge should get $2,750 a year when a man who could build up such a school as the normal college should not get $2,250.

Senator Mason wished to vote intelligently. He had heard the speeches but had not gotten much information. "It is not a question as to whether we owe the women of North Carolina a debt of gratitude; we all love them; the question and the only question is whether this school can be run for $22,500. When it comes to a constant drain on the state's resources it is time to talk sense."

Senator Hicks said it was sought in the morning to build a bath house for the boys and now it was sought to build a play-house for the girls. A report had been fixed up and when a legislator sought to oppose it he could not speak against it for interruptions. There were plenty of schools in North Carolina. If a gymnasium must be be built let it be built from the regular appropriation and let the big salaries be cut down.

Senator Brown said it was not fair to say that salaries of teachers were too high when other salaries had not been reduced. "The Senator from Granville calls it a play-house; I want to ask you if you are willing to expose a woman to the same weather as a man to get exercise? Are you willing to subject them to the highways in a city the size of Greensboro? If necessary I will pay the part of Columbus county in this tax," declared Senator Brown with emphasis.

Senator Lindsay said he had opposed appropriations all along. He had opposed paying the Wilsons $6,000 the other night; but he was willing to vote $5,000 for the benefit of the girls of the state. The institution belonged to the state and it was a plain business proposition to support it.

The amendment was put and lost on a division by a vote of 15 ayes to 26 noes.

Senator Franks moved to table and called for a roll call, but withdrew his motion.

A roll call was ordered on the passage of the bill and showed:

Ayes—Senators Brown, Bryan, Butler, Cheek, Collie, Cowper, Eaves, Fields, Fuller, Glenn, Goodwin, Hill, James, Jones of Johnston, Lambert, Lindsay, Lowe, Mason, McIntyre, Newsom, Osborne, Satterfield, Skinner, Smith, Speight, Travis, Ward, Whitaker, Williams and Wilson—30.

Noes—Senators Black, Campbell, Cocke, Cooley, Crisp, Davis, Franks, Hicks, Justice, Miller, Murray, Robinson, Stanback and Thomas—14.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU
HIGH POINT, N. C., Mar. 6

Owing to the heavy work at the telegraph office here the Western Union has found it necessary to put on more force, so they have awarded the position to Miss Hulse, of New York, who arrived Saturday night and went to work this morning.

Harry Brown, of Raleigh, who holds a position in Charlotte, spent Sunday in the city.

The Murray-Hartt Co. gave their last performance Saturday night and left yesterday for Lexington where they will play three nights.

H. C. Cartland, of Lexington, spent Sunday in the city.

Miss Minnie Shepard went to Lexington this morning to visit her sister Mrs. J. T. Hedrick.

Mrs. R. A. Wheeler left today for a visit to her daughter, Miss Annice, at Guilford College.

Miss Jennie Brown, of Concord, returned home Saturday night after spending a few months with her sister, Mrs. Ed. Carter.

Messers. Taylor Berry, Bob and Josh Slaughter went to Lexington today.

A Good Example.

The Southern Guarantee and Investment Company, Wharton & McAlister, agents, gave the contract for the engine and electrical equipment of their building on East Market street, to the Southern Electric Company, of Charlotte, represented by Mr. John R. Schenck, formerly of this place. The contract calls for three hundred sixteen candle power lights. The steam heating and plumbing contract was given to the Odell Hardware Company. In every way consistent with good business judgment, Messrs. Wharton & McAlister have patronized home industries from the ground up. One good turn deserves another.

The Frivolous Texas.

There was a short but exceedingly warm and spicy runaway on South Elm street this morning, when a Texas pony, belonging to a country gentleman, took it into his stubborn head, to play a joke. He dashed off from in front of M. G. Newell's carriage store, and the way he scattered people between that place and the depot was a caution, but just then the pony tried to "showoff" and raised his narrow limbs so high in in the air that they came back on the opposite sides of the buggy shaft and his fun stopped.

A new line of plain and fancy matting has just been put on sale at Thacker & Brockmann's, ranging in price from 15c to 50 cents per yard.

ANOTHER FIERCE BATTLE.

Filipinos Attempt To Capture Water Works.

BUT ARE DRIVEN BACK WITH LOSS

Two Americans Wounded—The Attempt Was Made in The Night. Fighting This Morning.

By Cable to the Telegram.

Manila, Mar. 6—At ten o'clock this morning another battle was fiercely waged. The Filipinos rebels attempted to capture the water works six miles from this city but were driven back with great loss. They made the main attack in the night, but the fighting was renewed this morning.

Under the cover of darkness the insurgents approached to within a short distance of the outposts of the Second Oregon and First Nebraska and suddenly opened fire along the line for a considerable length. The outposts returned the fire immediately and the contest was maintained at a furious pitch a long time.

The Filipinos' fire was severe. Two Americans were wounded and seventeen rebels were killed in the fighting line. Many wounded insurgents retreated slowly keeping up the fire until out of range. Another attempt to capture the waterworks may be made.

At San Tolon the Colorado infantry and a Nebraska battalion, two guns of the Utah engaged with Hales' brigade, today located 250 insurgents and two guns near San Pedro.

Many Changes.

We are pleased to state that Mr. W. J. Blackburn is able to be out, having been confined to his home for about four weeks by sickness. He says that during his illness many changes have taken place—he lost a fine horse, the curfew ordinance has been passed, the dispensary bill has become a law, we have had a big snow—but the city looks about like it did before he was taken sick. He says that Murray and Mack will be at the academy of music on the 22nd with a whole carload of fun.

Impressions of The Legislature.

Editor Telegram—A week spent with the legislature impresses the conviction that this is an able, laborious and patriotic body of men. It further impresses one that standing around the lobby, in and out, up and down for a week, is an exceedingly solemn business. However, favorable legislation in behalf of the Battle Ground having been secured and evil averted, let us all be happy once more. Ours is a most agreeable and diligent delegation, and to these gentlemen due acknowledgements are hereby rendered.

Jos. M. Morehead.

Stole Some Bug Juice.

Some one misappropriated about half a barrel of John Barker's liquor Saturday afternoon. The warehouse back of court square was left open until after sunset and while no one was in, the thieves rolled a barrel of whiskey into the lot near by. Later they drew half the contents into jugs and departed. They will no doubt enjoy life for some time if they are sharp enough to elude the police who, with Mr Barker's help, are working hard on the case.

Gorrell vs Water Supply Co.

Hon. A. L. Brooks went to Raleigh at noon today to appear before the supreme court in the case of Miss Charlotte Gorrell vs. Greensboro Water Supply Co., wherein the plaintiff sues for $5,000 alleged damages caused by failure of the defendant to furnish sufficient water power, during the big fire, on lower South Elm street, two years ago. Mr. Brooks represents the defendant.

New Millinery Store.

Mrs. Dodge, of New York City, who has been at the Allen for the past few days, has decided to locate here to engage in the milinery business. She left at noon today for New York to buy her stock which she expects to have ready in time for the Easter trade. She will probably occupy the the store room in the McAdoo building, corner East Market and South Davie streets.

DEMONSTRATIVE SPANIARDS.

Weylerites Oppose the Cabinet—Stormy Times Predicted.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Madrid, Mar. 6—A number of repatriated soldiers demonstrated at Valencia this evening, carrying banners, such as "Long live the army," "We are hungry," etc. The police dispersed the processionists. The conservatives and the business world well receive the new cabinet. Democrats and republicans denounce it. Weylerites violently oppose it, and stormy times are predicted.

A Rascally Trick.

Some scoundrel, for whom hanging would be a mild punishment, Saturday night, threw a rock through a large plate glass window in one of the Summit Avenue Building Company's handsome residences, smashing the window to flinders. The rock was thrown from the avenue and passed on through the room breaking the glass in a door on the opposite side. Such villiany as this should receive a severe punishment and if the guilty scoundrel is caught his lot will be a hard one.

A Wise Step.

The county commissioners have decided to buy a macadamizing outfit and begin work on the Pomona road. In doing this they acted wisely and did the best thing possible for Guilford county.

Flood in The Ohio.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Pittsburg, Mar. 6—The Allegheny and Monongahela will not increase the flood in the Lower Ohio to any alarming extent. The indications are that the Monongahela will not go beyond the twenty-feet stage.

Ice Gorge Pressing Bridges.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Port Jarvis, Mar. 6—This morning an ice gorge was pressing the Erie bridge and highway bridges and will probably destroy them. The inhabitants of the flats have fled to higher ground.

An Absurd Rumor.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Mar. 6—General McCook told a reporter this morning that the secretary of war rumor was absurd, and said he had not been approached on the subject.

Knitting Mills Closed.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Mar. 6—Ice in the Mohawk broke during the night. The banks are overflowed and several knitting mills have been obliged to shut down.

It will pay you to call on Thacker & Brockmann if you are going to buy anything in the way of carpets, art squares or matting.

ECHO ANSWERS.

During political campaigns the newspaper yells for the politician until it gets red in the face; but when does the politician ever whoop it up for the newspaper? A long, lingering and lonesome echo with a gutteral sound, answers, "When." Where does the newspaper man reap any reward this side of the evergreen shores, anyhow? He enters a campaign with gloves off and makes the bark and fur fly right and left. In his burning zeal for his party and his favorite candidate he takes the chances of getting in jail for libel. A street ruffian can stand on the corner and cuss a newspaper "black and blue" and apply to it all sorts of vile, vicious and slanderous epithets. Yet the newspaper must be mighty careful what it says of a man in its columns.

What has the present legislature—which the white supremacy newspapers of North Carolina undoubtedly elected—done in the matter of libel? A bill was introduced to give newspapers a fair showing; but what became of it? The Statesville Landmark, which, by the way, is one of the staunchest newspapers in the state, has this to say:

"Some time ago a libel law, which met the approbation of all newspaper men and was generally admitted to be fair and just, was introduced in the legislature and its passage urged. Since then we have never heard anything of the measure, and suppose that it is sleeping in the sleep of death. The newspapers are mighty popular with the politicians during the campaign, but generally when the campaign is over they are forgotten."

The Wilmington Messenger, which has a way of getting at the pith of a thing, copies the above paragraph and adds the following:

Newspapers have more to do in making the reputations of most politicians, office holders and seekers, than these men have been able to do for themselves. Many a reputation has been made by the active urgency of the men of the Faber. Unfortunately said reputation has not been always wisely and justly made.

We believe the legislature did wisely in selecting Messrs. Frank McNeill, of Wilmington, Samuel L. Rogers, of Macon, and Eugene C. Beddingfield, of Wake, to be railroad commissioners. Mr. McNeill is a lawyer of distinguished ability and was solicitor of his district for a long time. He will be chairman of the commission. Mr. Rogers is a man of recognized business ability. He has filled acceptably the office of superior court clerk of his county and was appointed by President Cleveland as collector of internal revenue for the western district and made a model officer. Mr. Beddingfield is a farmer of large experience and success. He was a member of the railroad commission when it was first established and served for six years with fairness and ability. He was succeeded by Dr. Abbott, of Pamlico. His is another case of a faithful servant being elected to his old position. No higher mark of commendation could be placed upon him.

It is seldom that a man is re-elected to his old position after once going down in political reverses; but we are pleased to note one exception in the re-election by the present legislature of Hon. S. L. Patterson to the position of commissioner of agriculture. It is a splendid recognition of the faithful ability with which he filled that office during the term immediately preceding the fusion regime in North Carolina. The farmers' department of the state government will be safe in his hands.

"The laborer is worthy of his hire," and it might be added that "the har vest is plenteous and the laborers are few." North Carolina can ill afford to put a premium on ignorance by being penurious in the matter of salaries for its educators. The amount of illiteracy among the native white population of our state is anything but creditable.

Cecil Rhodes, an Englishman and former premier of Cape Colony, says the United States will possess Mexico, Central and South America "by force of arms." Whether this prediction will prove true and what motives will bring about the conquest remain to be seen. There are principles, however, of right and wrong which abide and change not, which, if violated, may furnish material for some historian to write the story of the decline and fall of the American republic, for with nations as with individuals, the rule will hold good: Whatsoever ye sow that shall ye also reap.

We imagine that the four hundred of Chicago do not refer with a great deal of pride to the fact that the name of their village is derived from the word she-gog, which, in the mellow Indian tongue, meaneth "skunk"—see Harper's Monthly, March 1899, page 650. The article does not say, however, whether there are any lingering traces of its origin.

Senator Hawley spoke as few men have spoken when he he said unto Marion Butler, peace, be still, and Butler obeyed him.

In the matter of reducing salaries and appropriations there is danger of the legislature being too extravagant with economy.

A Disputed Hero.

"I suppose that Whittem is a great hero in your community," said a Detroiter to a friend from one of the interior towns.

"Oh, I don't know!"

"Don't know? Why, man, his bravery was remarkable! I read all about it in the papers. When his store was on fire, he rushed to the scene, disregarded the warnings shouted to him, pushed his way through the blinding smoke and seething flames and dropping firebrands to his office, dropped on his knees in the live coals before the safe, worked the hot knob until the combination caused the glowing doors to open, seized a valuable paper, rammed it beneath his vest to protect it from the raging element and staggered forth again from the consuming caldron. It was one of the most thrilling acts of bravery I ever heard of."

"Do you happen to know what that paper was for which Whittem risked his life?"

"No, but it must have been a very important document. No man would incur such danger without his very fortune was at stake."

"You'd think so, wouldn't you? Well, sir, that paper was the pedigree of Whittem's trottin hoss that never beat 2:28 and never will."—Detroit Free Press.

They Were New.

"Now, George, quit pulling my ear!"

"It's my ear now, sweet! Going to pull it all I please!"

This is why the hard featured passenger with the iron gray chin beard, who had been sitting in the seat behind a young man in a new black broadcloth suit and a young woman in a gray silk traveling dress, got up hastily and went forward into the smoking car.—Chicago Tribune.

Here's a Trick.

First Lady—What birthday present are you going to give to your husband?

Second Lady—A hundred cigars.

First Lady—And what did you pay for them?

Second Lady—Oh, nothing! For the last few months I have taken one or two out of Jack's box every day. He hasn't noticed it, and will be so pleased with my little present and the fine quality of the cigars.—London Fun.

He Was Low.

"An so Arabella has gone and engaged herself to a low churchman? Indeed I am astonished! Why, she even believes in the confessional!"

"Oh, as to that, perhaps he does too! But I should judge that he isn't an inch over five feet in his socks."—Cleveland Leader.

I have been afflicted with rheumatism for fourteen years and nothing seemed to give any relief. I was able to be around all the time, but constantly suffering. I had tried everything I could hear of and at last was told to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I did, and was immediately relieved and in a short time cured. I am happy to say that it has not since returned.—Josh Edgar, Germantown, Cal. For sale by C. E. Holton.

The freight-handlers' strike at Ludington, Mich., inaugurated several months ago, has been arbitrated.

Not one child dies where ten formerly died from croup. People have learned the value of One Minute Cough Cure and use it for severe lung and throat troubles. It immediately stops coughing. It never fails. Howard Gardner.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. 'Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman. Trial oottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

THE BRITISH BAND

Now Touring This Country and Soon To be in Greensboro.

Lieut. Dan Godfrey's British Guard Band which open their American tour in Washington this week, having arrived by the Lucania, is composed of men who have served in the Guards Regiments. Their ranks include many who have won distinction in active service. Among them is the trombone soloist Brady, who served in the Life Guards, and was with Lord Roberts in the famous march through the Khyber Pass. He received a medal for conspicuous bravery on that occasion and in the charge upon Cabul was rewarded with another medal. After his return to England he was awarded the Royal Humane Society's medal for saving two people from drowning. After all these he was given the long service medal. Bolton, Life Guardsman for fifteen years wears a medal for service in Egypt. He is the tympani-player and is the original in the picture of 'Tommy' the drum horse of the First Life Guards, which was presented to the regiment by the Duke of Connaught. Nearly all of Godfrey's men wear medals received either for bravery in the field, good conduct or long service.

This elaborate organization will appear in this city at the G. F. College Chapel, one night only, Thursday, March 9th. Get your tickets now at Fariss' drugstore, only $1.00 and $1.50.

Notice.

The first edition of "The Empire of the South" having been exhausted, a second edition will be ready for distribution by or about March 10, 1899.

It is a handsome volume of about 200 pages descriptive of the South and its vast resources, beautifully illustrated, and regarded by critics as the most complete production of its kind that has ever been published.

Persons wishing to secure this work will please enclose to the undersigned 25 cents per copy, which amount approximates the cost of delivery. Remittances may be made in stamps or otherwise.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severecolds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous consequences. Sold by C. E. Holton.

only is possible, whether as as a test of excellence in journalism, or for the measurement of quantities, time or values, and after a career of nearly twenty years of uninterrupted growth is justified in claiming that the standard first established by its founders is the one true test of

A Perfect Newspaper

To publish ALL The News promptly and succinctly and in the most readable form, without elisian or pattisan bias: to discuss its significance with frankness, to keep An Open Eye for Public Abuses, to give besides a complete record of current thought, fancies and discoveries in all departments of human activity in its Daily Editions of from 10 to 14 pages, and to provide the whole for its patrons at the nominal price of One Cent—that was from the outset, and will continue to be the aim of "THE RECORD."

The Pioneer

one-cent morning newspaper in the United States, "The Record" still leads where others follow.

Witness the unrivaled average daily circulation, exceeding 180,000 copies, and an average exceeding 145,000 copies for its Sunday editions, while imitations of its plan of publication in every important city of the country testify to the truth of the assertion that in the quantity and quality of its contents, and in the price at which it is sold "The Record" has established the standard by which excellence in journalism must be measured.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service

JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signalized this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2.20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentlemen; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening on to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" runs through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jeckyl Island are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York ond Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jekyl Island. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Thweatt, E. P. A., Southern Ry, 271 Broadway, New York.

BABY'S PHOTOGRAPH.

An Example of What the Man of the Camera Endures.

A young photographer, when asked what sort of subjects presented the greatest difficulties to him, replied without a moment's hesitation, "Babies."

"For instance," he continued, "I took photographs of a little 10-months-old fellow the other day in six different positions. Yesterday I sent proofs to his mother, and today she brought them in.

"'I'm sorry,' she said, without any obvious grief, 'but none of these negatives will do.'

"'Not one of the six?' I inquired, though I was prepared for what was to follow.

"'No,' she said, 'I'm afraid not. You see, I like this one very well, though, of course, it doesn't do baby justice, but his Aunt Ellen says it's an absolute caricature of the dear little fellow. The one she likes I don't care for at all, and his papa says he should never know for whom it was intended, it looks so cross, and baby is such a sunshiny child.

"'The one he likes, this smiling one, I shouldn't consider for a moment, for it makes baby's mouth look so much larger than it really is.

"'His grandmother chose that one, but as Cousin Fanny said, there's a very queer look to the child's eyes in it—very queer! However, she likes that one where he's almost crying, that sober one. You ought to have heard baby's grandfather when she said she liked it.

"'He really decided the thing, for what he said seemed so sensible. He asked me why I didn't have some more taken and see if there wouldn't be at least one that would really look like baby. Now, when can he sit again? It's hard for me to spare the time, but you see it is the only thing to be done!'"—Glasgow Herald.

STROKES OF A RAZOR.

How Many Do You Suppose It Takes to Shave a Man?

"Now that you've finished shaving me, how many strokes of the razor did it require?" asked the man in the chair, as he straightened up to have his hair combed.

"That's pretty hard to tell," said the barber.

"Of course it is. But you've been in the business how long?"

"Fifteen years."

"You ought to know by this time about how many strokes of the razor it requires to shave a man, supposing that you go over his face a second time."

"I might make a guess at it."

"All right. What's your guess? Remember that I have a hard beard."

"Well, I should say about 125."

"You're a good guesser, I don't think. Some time ago I got into the habit of counting the strokes of a razor every time I was being shaved. It's a good way to employ your mind. In shaving me you just made 789 strokes with the razor."

"I wouldn't have believed it."

"No man believes it until he takes the trouble to count. In my case I never knew the number to fall below 500, and it has gone more than 800 at times. I call it a stroke every time the razor is brought forward and then drawn back. I should judge that there are no fewer than 500 strokes in a first class shave. You remember that, and probably you can win a few beta."—New York World.

Bank Impertinence.

The Philadelphia Record tells of an old Pennsylvania farmer who recently came into possession of a check for $300. It caused him a great deal of anxiety, and for a long time he could not muster up the courage to have it cashed. Finally, while on a trip to town, he summoned up nerve enough and, strolling into the bank, presented the check. The teller glanced at it hastily, and then, after the fashion of his kind, brusquely asked, "What denomination?"

"Lutheran, gol durn it! But what's thet got tew do with it?" as brusquely replied the old farmer, to the great astonishment of the bank official.

It required several minutes' explanation before the teller could get the old man to understand his question, and then the latter took his money and departed, with sundry growls derogatory to banks in general.

Equal to the Occasion.

In 1840 a great convention was held in Baltimore by the young men of what was then known as the Whig party for the purpose of ratifying the nomination of General William Henry Harrison for the presidency. There was no hall in the city large enough to hold the crowd of delegates who attended. The convention accordingly met on the Canton race track, and when the great Whig orator of this state, who was chairman of the Young Men's national committee, arose to call the meeting to order he was so impressed by the vastness of the assemblage before him that instead of the usual formula he exclaimed, "The nation will please come to order!"—Baltimore Sun.

An Insult.

A Caribou (Me.) man lately wandered into a remote hotel that doesn't keep a dictionary, and on coming down in the morning was asked by the landlord how he rested.

"Oh," replied the gentleman, "I suffered nearly all night with insomnia!"

The landlord took offense at this and roared, "I'll bet you $2 there ain't one in my house!"—Exchange.

NORTH CAROLINA,
GUILFORD COUNTY.

By virtue of the powers conferred upon me in a certain order made by the Superior Court of Guilford county in a cause therein pending, entitled Mrs Nellie Albright, et al., ex parte, I will, as commissioner, sell at the court house door in Greensboro on the first Monday in March, (it being the sixth day) to the highest bidder at public auction, for cash, the following described land and premises, to-wit:

A house and lot on Cedar street, in the city of Greensboro and fronting on said s reet 62½ feet and running back about 300 feet and adjoining the lands of T. M. Pickard on the north, Bob Aiken on the south, J. W. Richardson on the west, and others, containing one-half of one acre, more or less. Upon which is situated a nice five room cottage, good well and a barn. It being the home place of Joe Albright, deceased.

This 28th day of January, 1899.

A. L. BROOKS, Commissioner.

CARLYLE AS A TUTOR

AN AMUSING ANECDOTE OF THE GREAT AND GLOOMY MAN.

He Had a Frown That Terrified and a Laugh That Startled His Pupils. The Day the Donkey Came to School Against His Will.

A writer in The Scotsman has unearthed an amusing anecdote of Thomas Carlyle as a country "dominie," for the accuracy of which he vouches. It was told in 1858 by a Cupar Fife lawyer and provost who had been one of Carlyle's pupils at Kirkcaldy, to the writer and Hugh Miller. The interest of this gentleman's reminiscences of his schoolmaster was heightened by his utter unconsciousness that his old dominie was the Thomas Carlyle who was then beginning to be known to fame.

The old gentleman described the older race of Scottish schoolmasters as always during school hours wearing their hats—at least keeping their heads covered—and many of the boys, viewing the peculiar angle at which the hat stood upon the head and how near it came to the eyebrows, could conjecture if the savage mood were to be that day predominant.

"But my teacher," said the provost, "a strict and gloomy disciplinarian with the name of Carlyle, never wore his hat in the school, and indeed his brow was so overhung with dark threatening that no extra expression to alarm us was needed from his lum hat! He did not thrash us either very often or very severely, but we had a fear that, if provoked, he would go great lengths in punishment. I have seen his mere scowl hush at once the whole school."

Hugh Miller here interposed by asking, "Did your teacher ever burst into a strange laugh in school?"

"That is a very odd question," returned the provost. "Why do you ask? But now that I remember, he had at times a very extraordinary laugh that made us all stare. It had a train of queer chuckling which exploded in a succession of loud and deep guffaws that shook his whole body and displayed all his teeth like the keys of a piano. He then clapped his hands on the book he held against his knees. Yet none of us never knew at what he was laughing. He had a grim smile in reproving pupils and a habit of tapping their heads with his knuckles as he told them that the heads would never be worth the price of hats or the charge of a barber, though mammas and aunts had that morning combed, kissed and blessed them, as if they were teeming with the sublimest inventions and designs!"

The provost saw that Hugh Miller and some other guests were listening eagerly, and he proceeded:

"One morning, a few minutes before the school hour, when most of the pupils had arrived, and, as rain was falling, they had gone into the school, a donkey, which had broken loose from its tether on a grassy spot near, was entering the playground. Bill Hood and I were so far on our way, and Bill, who was a stout and frolicsome lad—the ringleader in many sports and tricks—rushed to mount the animal and began to guide and force it into the school.

"With desperate spurring the donkey was induced to carry its rider over the threshhold, and what a reception both of them got from the juvenile crowds! Bags of books were at once fastened to the tail and around the neck of the ass, and so busy were Bill and half a dozen companions in urging the animal to a canter around the school and to ascend the short stair of the master's desk that they did not notice how time was speeding, and before they could remove the stranger Mr. Carlyle appeared.

"We expected a tremendous explosion of wrath, but he burst into a roar of laughter—such a roar, however, as, instead of tempting us to join in it, produced a sudden and complete hush, and that roar was renewed again and again when the ass, withdrawing its forefeet from the first step of the desk stair and turning round, took a pace or two slowly toward the master as if to salute him.

"'That,' exclaimed Carlyle, 'is the wisest and best scholar Kirkcaldy has yet sent me. He is fit to be your teacher.' He tapped the donkey's head as he was wont to do ours and said, 'There's something here far more than in the skulls of any of his brethren before me, though these skulls are patted in fond admiration by papas and mammas, and though that far grander headpiece meets only with merciless blows.'

"He then gave some hard taps on Bill Hood's head, and would not allow him to dismount, but for a penalty ordered him to ride up and down the school for an hour, while those boys who had been most active in helping Bill to go through the farce had to march in pairs before and behind the perplexed looking ass. He did not require the other scholars to attend to their several school lessons, but silently permitted them to stand as spectators of the grotesque procession. Then he himself, seated within his pulpit like desk, surveyed Bill and his company.

"I have not for years thought of this scene," continued the provost, "but it has now come back to me freshly, and I remember that my old master had a very strange laugh. I don't know what has become of him, nor indeed have I heard of him since I left Kirkcaldy school."

No Open Dates.

"You have an elegant and spacious home," said the pastor. "You have books, a piano, a daughter who can sing and play and everything to make home alluring. Why don't you throw your house open some evening in the week for the benefit of the homeless young men? You might save many a one from the club and the saloon."

"Young men?" said the wealthy member. "There's one of them who comes to my house six evenings in the week. What are you talking about, doctor?"—Chicago Tribune.

Notice of Application For Charter of Incorporation.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned and his associates will apply to the present session of the General Assembly of North Carolina for a charter, among other things, to develop the water power of the Yadkin and other rivers and convey it by means of wires to the various cities and towns of North Carolina, to construct and operate street railway power and electrict light plants and gas plants and operate them in such cities and towns in North Carolina as may see fit to contract with and grant franchises to the corporation, and to furnish electric power to all persons desiring the same for manufacturing or other purposes.

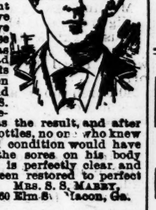
Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.



My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth, and he has been restored to perfect health.

Mrs. S. S. MABRY,
260 Elm St. Macon, Ga.

For real blood troubles it is a waste of time to expect a cure from the doctors. Blood diseases are beyond their skill. Swift's Specific, reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral.

Trinity Notes.

Durham, Mar. 4—The special religious services conducted at the college, by Rev. C. F. Siler, pastor of Trinity church, Charlotte, closed last evening. These exercises have been remarkably well attended, and much interest manifested. Mr. Siler has made many friends during his stay, and carries with him the best wishes of all.

Mr. Albert Whitehouse, the newly elected director of the gymnasium has arrived and entered upon his duties. The athletic field is being enclosed, and a grand-stand erected. Great interest is being manifested in athletics, and the prospects for a good base ball team is very fine. Schedule of games has been arranged.

President Kilgo will deliver an address before the students of Horner's School, Friday evening March 10th.

Prof. Edwin Mims was called to the bedside of his father, who is dangerously ill at his home in Little Rock, Ark.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

H. H. Cartland went to Winston at noon.

Maj. Chas. M. Stedman went to Raleigh at noon.

Charlie Mendenhall spent yesterday in Reidsville.

The weather is going to be beautiful for the Gordon lecture.

J. Elwood Cox, of High Point, is in the city this afternoon.

J. G. Fowler went to Raleigh at noon on business for Cartland, the tailor.

Hon. A. M. Scales left at noon today for Raleigh to attend supreme court.

Now, let's give Gen Gordon a rousing audience Wednesday night. Only 50c. admission.

Mrs. J. B. Cobb and children, of New York, passed through on No. 36 today returning home from the south.

Miss Selma Lambe is now in the northern markets purchasing a spring line of millinery for Miss Rosa Hamner Carter.

Mrs. C. C. Gorrell left at noon today for New York and other northern markets to buy her spring stock of millinery.

A gentleman who has had experince in such, says the academy will have more people in it on Wednesday night than has ever been in it before.

Rev. T. C. Hodgin closed his series of meetings at Center yesterday. He is in the city today and will preach at Friends church tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Elsewhere will be seen an announcement of the opening date of the New York Milliney Parlor. Watch our advertising columns for further particulars, etc.

There are a few $1.00 reserve seats left in the gallery, for the famous British Guard Band. Get them at once as they are going fast. Get seats now at Faries'.

That was a nice thing Mr. King did in giving ten seats to that many ex-Confederate soldiers that they may hear the great General again. Now, let others follow.

On the eighth will probably be the last time Gen. Gordon will ever deliver his famous lecture, "Last Days of the Confederacy," here. Secure your seats and hear him, they are going fast.

Col. W. H. Osborne, one of the new directors of the penitentiary, who is detained in Raleigh on business connected with that institution, spent Sunday at home and returned to Raleigh today.

"The South as Seen in Red Rock" will be the subject discussed at the literary meeting of the West Market Street Epworth League in the league rooms tonight at 7:45. An interesting program, consisting of papers and music, has been prepared. All are cordially invited to be present.

Messrs. Harry & Belk Bros. are fixing up on of the handsomest stores in in the state in the K. of P. building. They will announce their opening in these columns, which will probably be in a few days. Mr. Belk is now in the northern markets adding the finishing touches to what already looks, to an outsider, to be a complete stock.

The sermon of Rev. T. E. Wagg, at Centenary yesterday morning was a powerful one. His subject was "the sluggard" who wanted "a little more sleep, a little more slumber, a little more folding of the hands to sleep." The discourse was able, full of rich thought and shows Mr. Wagg to be a thinker as well as a most entertaining speaker. His congregations are growing.

Announcement.

MRS. HOUSEKEEPER:

Please permit us to ask you a very pointed question: Have you a Universal Food Chopper? By this we do not mean a meat grinder, but a Chopper, which takes the place of chopping bowl and beater.

It chops meat, of course, but it does more. You can chop ham, cocoanut, or bread instead of grating it. You can—but we can't tell it all here. Our booklet gives full information Free. You will have use for it every day in the year. It is very simple and very cheap. Please call and let us show it to you. Yours truly,
